SOCIETY'S EASTER WEEK PLANS

A Long List of Dinners, Dances and Weddings—More Entertainments for Charity.

Easter week bids fair to be highly interesting to society, with its dinners, dances and weddings, although there will not be so many of the last as in the corresponding week of last year. All the young people are ready for the dances which have been denied them during the penitential season and there will be several dances of note, but mainly for the delectable element of society, the elder members having had their full share during the winter.

Mrs. Henry E. Cox will give a dance at 5 East Tenth street to-morrow night for her niece, Miss Noel Johnston, one of the debutantes of the winter. It will be preceded by a dinner.

An Easter dance has been organized by Mrs. Edwin Holmes, Mrs. Thomas B. Van Buren and Mrs. A. W. Green, to be given to-morrow night at Sherry's. The committee includes the Misses Ada Bryce Gray, Hazel Rache, Mildred Home, Katharine Moore, Vera Van Buren and Josephine Green.

Mrs. Theodore Hostetter's dinner dance of Tuesday night, at Sherry's will be one and Mrs. Oliver Harriman. The other farewell dance will be that of the series known as the Metropolitan dances, organized by Mrs. Archibald Rogers, Mrs. George B. Post, Jr., Mrs. William Jay Schieffelin, Mrs. LeRoy King, Mrs. Percy R. Pyne, and Mrs. R. Fulton Cutting. It will be a small and early dance, taking place at Sherry's on Saturday night.

Gen. Horace Porter, former Ambassador to France, will give to-morrow night a dinner to Myron T. Herrick, the newly appointed Ambassador to that country, and Mrs. Herrick, who are leaving for France of Thursday. They will be entertained at dinner also by Mrs. Charles R. Alexander and Mrs. Elbridge T. Gerry and on Wednesday Frederick Townsend Martin will give a large luncheon party for them at Sherry's.

Miss Leary will give to-morrow night at her house, 1032 Fifth avenue, a dinner for the Rev. Bernard Vaughan of London, who has been passing the winter here. After dinner Miss Alma Gluck and Pasquale Amato of the Metropolitan Opera will sing. Father Vaughan delivered an

Mrs. Vanderbilt, Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, Mrs. William Douglas Sloane and Mrs. Edmund L. Baylies will all give dinners for Mr. and Mrs. Martin, who are returning to London on April 24.

The principal wedding of the week will take place as follows:

of the most important of the spring season. It will be given for her daughter, Miss Greta Hostetter, whose introduction it will be to society in New York. Mrs. Hostetter and her daughter went to London last May and were there during the coronation festivities. Mrs. Hostetter having taken a house for the season. They passed some weeks in Rome during the early part of the winter. Miss Hostetter is a splendid horsewoman and rode to the hunt while she was in Rome. Both mother and daughter were presented at the court held at Buckingham Palace, on March 15 and their return here was for the purpose of introducing Miss Hostetter to the New York friends of her family.

The dinner will be for one hundred and as many more will come afterward for the dances. Mrs. Hostetter will return to London in a fortnight and her daughter will remain here until the early part of May when she will join her mother.

Another dinner dance of the week will be given at Sherry's on Wednesday night by Miss Madeleine Dinamore for her debutante niece, Miss Helen Dinamore Huntington, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Huntington, who returned last week from Garnet, S. C. Miss Huntington had no formal coming out during the winter.

Mrs. John R. Drexel, who recently returned from a trip to the West Indies, will give a dinner dance on Tuesday night for her daughter, Miss Alice Drexel, for whom several similar entertainments were given early in the winter. Another dinner dance of Tuesday night will be the last of the so-called Three Dances, organized by Mrs. R. Barrows, Mrs. William W. Apple, Mrs. Henry Bischoff, Mrs. James R. McKee, Mrs. Frank V. Burton, Mrs. Rowland A. Robbins, Mrs. J. Henry Cook, Mrs. Charles W. Romeyn, Mrs. William Fargo and Mrs. George T. Wilson. The dances will be at the Plaza and quite informal.

Easter week will see the end of two subscription dances, organized especially for the young people who will take out in society next year or the year following. The Friday Junior interesting lecture last Monday night at the Waldorf and among the people of prominence in society who listened to him were the Countess de Laugier-Villars, Mr. and Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, Mr. and Mrs. Philip M. Lydig, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Guthrie, Alfonso de Navarro, Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, Mrs. Reginald Brooks, Mrs. William Post, Miss Leary, Mrs. William F. Sheehan, Mrs. Frederick Betts, L. F. Holbrook Betts, Mrs. Henry De Corpet, Mrs. Mason Remond Jones, Mrs. Charles du Vivier, Miss Louise du Vivier, Mrs. J. Herbert Johnston, Miss Noel Johnston, Mrs. William Armstrong Greer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Welch, Louis Keller, Mrs. Harry S. Kingsley, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Townsend, Mrs. Albert Gould Jennings, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Iselin, Miss Louise Iselin, Mr. and Mrs. E. Lytle Fox, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hughes Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Schuyler N. Warren and Miss Lydia Redmond.

Mrs. James Cunningham Bishop has for some years been supporting a class of children for the study of orchestral music, meetings having been held each week at her house, 22 East Sixty-fifth street. Through her efforts an orchestra has been formed, its members coming to Mrs. Bishop's house from distant parts of the city for rehearsals. They are provided with carfare and after a couple hours of instruction a luncheon is served. Mrs. Bishop's own daughters are members of the class, three of them playing the violin and the fourth the piano. Since organizing this class Mrs. Bishop has relinquished many of her social duties in order to give her personal attention to the work of the young musicians.

The fourth annual concert by the orchestra will be given in the ballroom of the Plaza on the afternoon of April 30. Invitations for which will soon be sent out. Many women in society provide trips to the country during the summer for the children of the less fortunate. Mrs. Bishop has made it possible for the children of talent, whose means do not allow its cultivation, a chance for the study of music. The children have been instructed by Louis J. Cornu, who also conducts the little orchestra. The concert, if not a great event in the musical world, will at least be of great interest.

Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Martin have been the recipients of much attention since their arrival here from London. Mrs. M. Lawrence Keene will give a dinner for them to-night, and on Tuesday night Julien T. Davies will give one in the annex of the Metropolitan Club.
